

Relative Pronouns Exercise

Fill in the blanks with an appropriate relative pronoun.

1. Do you know the man
called this morning?

who

whom

which

2. I know a child can do complex math in her head.

who

whom

which

3. Maria parents are rich
considers herself above us.

who

Relative Pronouns Exercise

who's

whose

4. It was a puzzle no one could solve.

which

that

Either could be used here

5. The man legs were amputated can never walk again.

whom

whose

who's

Relative Pronouns Exercise

6. The girl he is going to marry is an old friend of mine.

whom

that

Either could be used here

7. The police arrested the man rants on social media led to a communal clash.

who

whose

who's

8. The girl parents work abroad lives with her grandmother.

whose

Relative Pronouns Exercise

who's

whom

9. He has bought a parrot can speak.

that

which

Either could be used here

10. This is the estate I inherited from my grandfather.

which

that

Either could be used here

Relative Pronouns Exercise

11. The birds were kept in the cage were released by the man.

that

which

Either could be used here

12. All I have is yours.

which

that

Either could be used here

Answers

Do you know the man who called this morning?

I know a child who can do complex math in her head.

Maria whose parents are rich considers herself above us.

It was a puzzle which/that no one could solve.

The man whose legs were amputated can never walk again.

The girl whom/that he is going to marry is an old friend of mine.

Relative Pronouns Exercise

The police arrested the man whose rants on social media led to a communal clash.

The girl whose parents work abroad lives with her grandmother.

He has bought a parrot which/that can speak.

This is the estate which/that I inherited from my grandfather.

The birds which/that were kept in the cage were released by the man.

All that I have is yours.